“On-Demand” Time and Attendance: Is It Right for Your Organization?

Companies of all sizes are considering Web-hosted or “on-demand” solutions for business process functions like employee time and attendance tracking. These organizations recognize the potential benefit of less maintenance, lower operational costs, lower cost of ownership, as well as a shift from a capitalized expenditure to a manageable monthly expense.

A New Business Model

The Web-hosted Attendance on Demand™ service for employee time and attendance offers a new business model that replaces traditional time and attendance software (www.attendanceondemand.com).

Attendance on Demand lets the smallest of enterprises enjoy sophisticated and secure online labor-management applications at a fraction of the cost of purchasing, installing, and maintaining a traditional purchased system.

Large organizations can also streamline and improve the process of collecting and managing employee data, with a time and attendance system that is “always on,” hosted at a secure site using just a PC and an Internet browser.

Is It Right for You?

Is a time and attendance system right for your organization? Consider the following benefits:

- No need to buy and install servers and software at your site.

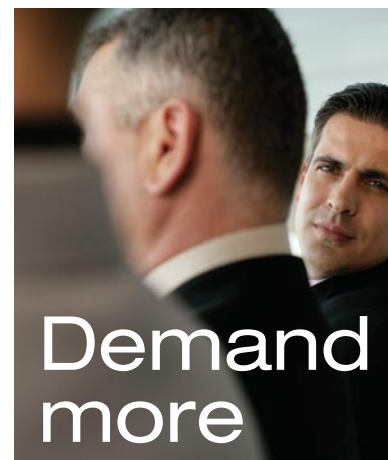

Attendance on Demand lets the smallest of enterprises enjoy sophisticated and secure online labor-management applications at a fraction of the cost of purchasing, installing, and maintaining a traditional purchased system.

- No need to maintain, manage, and constantly upgrade servers and software over time.
- Your data is protected by industry-standard security.
- You are served by certified, professional technicians.
- Lower total cost of ownership over time.
- Less configuration, less complexity, less maintenance cost.
- No costly, disruptive upgrades.
